FOREWORD

Just as experiences in life have different meanings for different persons, Columbia High does not mean the same to each of her students. Many students will remember most vividly the football, basketball, and baseball games, and the track meets. Certain teachers will stand out in the minds of CHS students for their sincere concern and warm friendship. Still others will remember all of the activities at Columbia High . . . its clubs, Student Council, the Band, the Chorus, and the annual and newspaper staffs. Of course everyone will remember the honors at CHS . . . National Honor Society, 60-point Awards, Old English C's, and the Bill Goudelock Scholarship.

Through these phases of Columbia High, students achieve the main purpose of school . . . they learn. They not only learn facts from books, they learn the importance of accepting responsibility, they learn the spirit of cooperation and participation, and they acquire a greater and deeper sense of maturity.

In the following pages the annual staff has endeavored to record these activities of Columbia High School. Even more important, however, they have tried to capture on these pages the feelings of love and devotion of all Columbia High's students for a wonderful Alma Mater.

Opened Another Memorable Year For Faculty and Student Body Of CHS

With the coming of September came the opening of school. Orientation Day was held so that all new students might become acquainted with the school and their homeroom teachers. When school opened, confusion and fear filled the air as the freshmen ventured into a new world of independence. "Freshman Week," sponsored by Executive Council, taught the lowly freshmen to heed the requests of their superiors. The names of disobedient rats were put in a complaint box in front of the auditorium. "Rat Court" brought an end to "Freshman Week," and a judge and jury took proper care of all disrespectful frosh.

As Seniors elected officers, plans came into being for future events.

September also brought football, and Columbia was not to be outdone by any team. Our boys surprised the excited spectators as they led our team to the biggest upset of the season. For the first time in the history of Columbia High School, we defeated Richmond Academy.

The judge sentences a freshman at Rat Court.

These chemistry students have new experiences in lab.

The Honor Society elected new members and held an installation service.

Brought With It Homecoming, Pep Rallies, and the Election Of Class Officers

Mr. Able and electronics students are preparing for the assembly held in October.

Cheerleaders help build spirit at a pep rally before the Homecoming game.

Before we knew it, we were in the middle of football season. Time and time again, cheerleaders enthusiastically helped the student body gain pre-game spirit. The air buzzed with the excitement of homecoming week and the big homecoming game, for which we picked a Maid of Honor. Senior players frantically chose their sponsors for the game and submitted the names.

Football was not the only excitement in October. During an assembly program, one of our outstanding juniors was awarded a citation from Ingenue and Care for her work during the summer on the Care Fund.

Not to be outdone, the Electronics department, the only one in the Columbia City Schools, put on an excellent and interesting assembly program.

Reports went out just before the Fair Week holiday. On the following Monday, parents visited the school and learned of our achievements and failures.

The Key Club poured Spirit Water all during the week before the Dreher game.

In November seniors were measured for caps and gowns.

Saw Annual Subscriptions Go Over 1000 Mark After Campaign Sponsored By Staff

The annual staff sponsored an assembly to begin the year's subscription drive.

For the first time, Columbia High conducted its annual subscription drive in November. To encourage subscriptions, the annual staff offered free tickets to the beauty contest to each member of any homeroom that subscribed 100 per cent. This scheme was so successful that the goal of 1,000 annuals was surpassed. Then we turned our attention to the beauty contest which took place late in the month. The crowning of "Miss Columbian" and of the class beauties was an unforgettable event.

Following tradition, Columbia High played football against Dreher at Memorial Stadium on Thanksgiving Day. School spirit was at its height as Key Club members served "spirit water" in the front hall during the week, all students participated in stuffing and later in burning the Blue Devil, "graves" were provided for poor old Dreher players, and the Beat Dreher dance followed the pre-game parade on Thanksgiving Eve.

Forgetting ourselves for a while, we generously provided baskets of groceries to be shared with the less fortunate and thereby made Thanksgiving a day of happiness for many.

Brought Christmas and Yule Projects To Benefit Needy

December brought the thrills and festivities of Christmas. Thoughts of others were predominant as each homeroom raised money to buy gifts for an underprivileged child, carried on a friendly rivalry in making attractive packages, and made the front hall beautiful as packages went under the tree. Then the home economics girls, Executive Council, and Mr. Kirk filled the teachers' boxes with remembrances.

Executive Council sponsored caroling for shut-ins in local rest homes and the State Hospital. Homeroom parties ushered in the holiday when school was forgotten.

Executive Council placed little cups of candy in the teachers' boxes as Christmas presents from Council.

The Christmas tree with its packages for underprivileged children brightened the front hall.

Brought About Key Club and Publications Staff's Thrilling Westside Story Production

With the start of a new year came the start of a new student administration . . . a new President, new councils, and new club officers. Many parents attended the inspiring installation ceremony.

Westside Story, presented by the Key Club and the Publications Business Staff, was an unusual treat. All who participated deserve sincere commendations.

During the week after the performance of Westside Story, students wished they had been more diligent in their studies. Exams, closely followed by reports, brought the month to a close. Again students resolved to do better work during the new semester.

The rumbles in "Westside Story" were unbelievably realistic.

Saw Executive Council Honor Fire Chief Marsh, Making Him Honorary Graduate

Both teachers and students enjoyed the Senior Banquet.

Twirp Week was climaxed by Twirp Court, at which erring girls were "tried and convicted."

Chief Marsh was presented a red fire helmet at a special assembly in February.

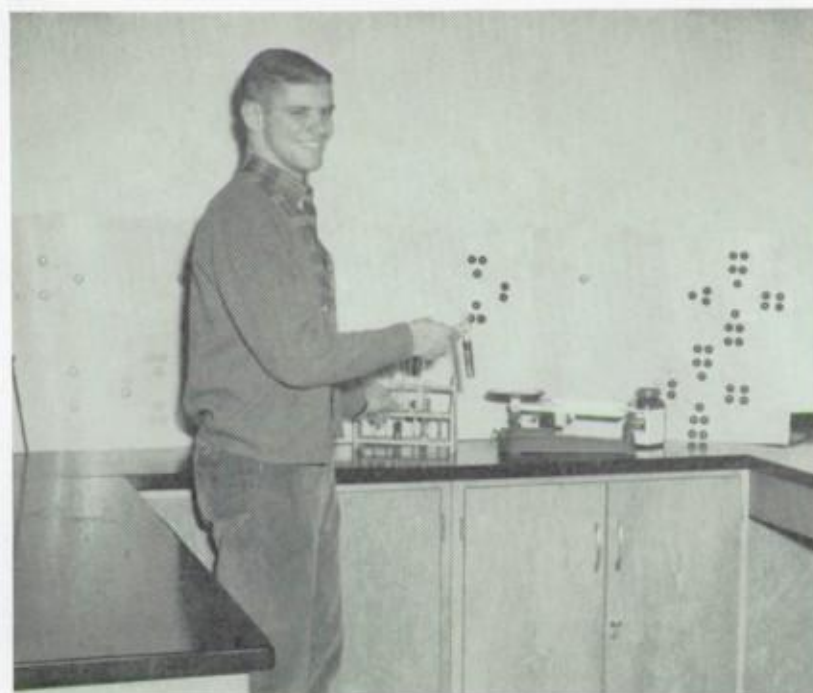

THE CHS canteen, begun this year by Executive Council, did a thriving business, especially when the days turned warm.

February at CHS was a very busy month. The band presented the winter Pops Concert, the National Honor Society held its semi-annual installation services, and the seniors held their banquet. Following the banquet, Seniors and their guests danced to the music of the Travelers.

At a special assembly, Executive Council honored retired Fire Chief A. Mc. Marsh, who was made an honorary graduate of Columbia High.

The Anchor Club initiated Twirp Week, during which all girls were expected to act like gentlemen. One Friday Twirp Court was held and all ungentlemanly girls were brought before a jury, convicted, and properly punished. Executive Council sponsored a Twirp dance to raise money for the Bill Goudelock Scholarship Fund.

With the end of February came the end of basketball season. Now we looked forward to track and baseball seasons and hoped that our teams would be as successful as they had been in basketball.

Brought Warm Weather, Science Projects And Key Club's Teacher Appreciation Week

With March came spring and, of course, spring fever. It was hard to realize there were only two more months of school.

Nearly every afternoon in March students could be found at Memorial Stadium at track meets.

Unfortunately for science students, projects were due in March. When they were set up in the library, all the hard work and mental anguish seemed a little more worth while.

Also during March the Key Club sponsored Teacher Appreciation Week. CHS teachers were recognized for all they do for their students and the school.

All Latin students participated in the Latin Banquet held in March.

In April the Dramatics Club presented an enjoyable comedy, "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis."

During an Assembly this month the Latin classes presented a style show of Roman dress.

Brings Emphasis On Student Talent And Spirituality

One of the highlights of April was the Dramatics Club's production of "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis." The cast spent many long hours rehearsing for the presentation, and they certainly deserve credit for a job well done.

The chorus classes presented a musical entitled "Down in the Valley" this month. Also, in the way of unusual entertainment the Senior Class held a Male Beauty Contest. Miss COLUMBIAN and class "beauties" were chosen from the representatives of the masculine portion of the student body.

Another highlight of April was Religious Emphasis Week. This year's theme was "If Ye Have Faith." All week speakers discussed different aspects of faith. It was truly an inspiring experience in the midst of the Easter season.

Brought Eagerly Awaited Annual Events Such As Junior-Senior And Graduation

Warm weather finally established itself in May. With the knowledge that school would be out in only a few weeks, CHS students had a harder time than ever paying attention in class.

In May the highlight of the year for many was held—the Junior-Senior. This year's dance was held at the Wade Hampton Hotel with music furnished by the Jungaleers.

In May all students participated in Barefoot Day by wearing bermuda shorts and, of course, going barefoot.

Finally, in May these long-awaited books, the annuals, were distributed. On the day the annuals were given out the Honor Society sponsored the Annual Signing Party when students used seventh period to sign annuals. It was difficult to believe that another year was coming to a close.

In May the annuals were delivered and the Honor Society held the annual signing party.

For the seniors the long-awaited graduation finally arrived.

On Barefoot Day students donned bermudas and left shoes at home.

Brought Senior Trip, Summer Vacation And Closed Another Glorious Year At CHS

When June finally arrived, students were both happy and sad. Most of the underclassmen were ecstatic; they would be back next year. But the seniors mixed happiness with melancholy. This was the last time they would walk these halls as students. These years at CHS had truly been wonderful.

By this time many juniors already had their suitcases packed for the Senior Trip. This year, they went to New York and Washington. While these students were preparing to leave for Washington and New York, several rising seniors were making plans to attend Palmetto Girls' and Boys' State.

For the underclassmen there will be more wonderful years at Columbia High. As the seniors leave, they will go with the knowledge that they have received the best education from the most dedicated faculty anywhere.

Yes, June brought the close of another glorious year at Columbia High.

Students receive their report cards for the last time this year.

A D M I N I S T R A T I O N

Our school, Columbia High, possesses many wonderful traits within its walls. One of its most valuable possessions, however, is the administration. This devoted faculty has worked not only to teach and serve their students, but they have made scholars and leaders of the students here.

Not only do these teachers advise and help, but they are always near to praise and to be a friend to each and every student.

These teachers give of their time by staying after school to help any student to learn.

Columbia High is also extremely proud of its principal and assistant principals who have proved over and over their deep interest and love for Columbia High's students, education, appearance, and high standards.

MR. GUY VARN

Mr. Guy Varn, Superintendent of the Columbia City Schools, has done much for the students of Columbia.

Mr. Varn has held his position since 1951 and has advanced the school program to a great degree.

Mr. Varn has done a superior job in his official role as well as in his personal dealings with his fellow man. He praises and commends the students who have done outstanding work in some school activity.

He gives of his time unselfishly. This year at a special assembly honoring Chief Marsh, Mr. Varn added his commendations.

All students should honor our superintendent for his active interest and concern for the students of the Columbia City Schools.

Superintendent and School Board Work Together

MR. LEWIS ROGER KIRK, JR.

Upon entering the halls of Columbia High School, one is likely to find Mr. Lewis Roger Kirk, Jr., our principal, at once. Anyone who meets him recognizes his outstanding ability to guide and direct this school.

After serving as assistant principal at Crayton, Hand Junior High School, and Columbia High, Mr. Kirk became principal in 1958. During his five years of service he has advanced steadily in versatility and in popularity.

Mr. Kirk's eternal faith in the faculty and the students has proved that he is a man of superior leadership.

To know Mr. L. R. Kirk is to respect, to admire, and to love him.

With Principals For Another Successful School Year

MRS. ALICE C. BABCOCK

Columbia High is extremely proud of its two assistant principals.

Mrs. Babcock is sincerely interested in all of the students at Columbia High. This year she received an award from the school for all of her goodness.

MR. JAMES HICKS

Mr. James Hicks is equally loved and respected by all of the students. He is concerned with the students getting a good education. When any student is truant, Mr. Hicks talks with and tries to help him see the vital importance of learning.

CLASSES

As another school year draws to a close, the student looks back at his past year at Columbia High School. The courses he has studied, the activities in which he has participated, and the times he has been proud of his school have played an important part in each life.

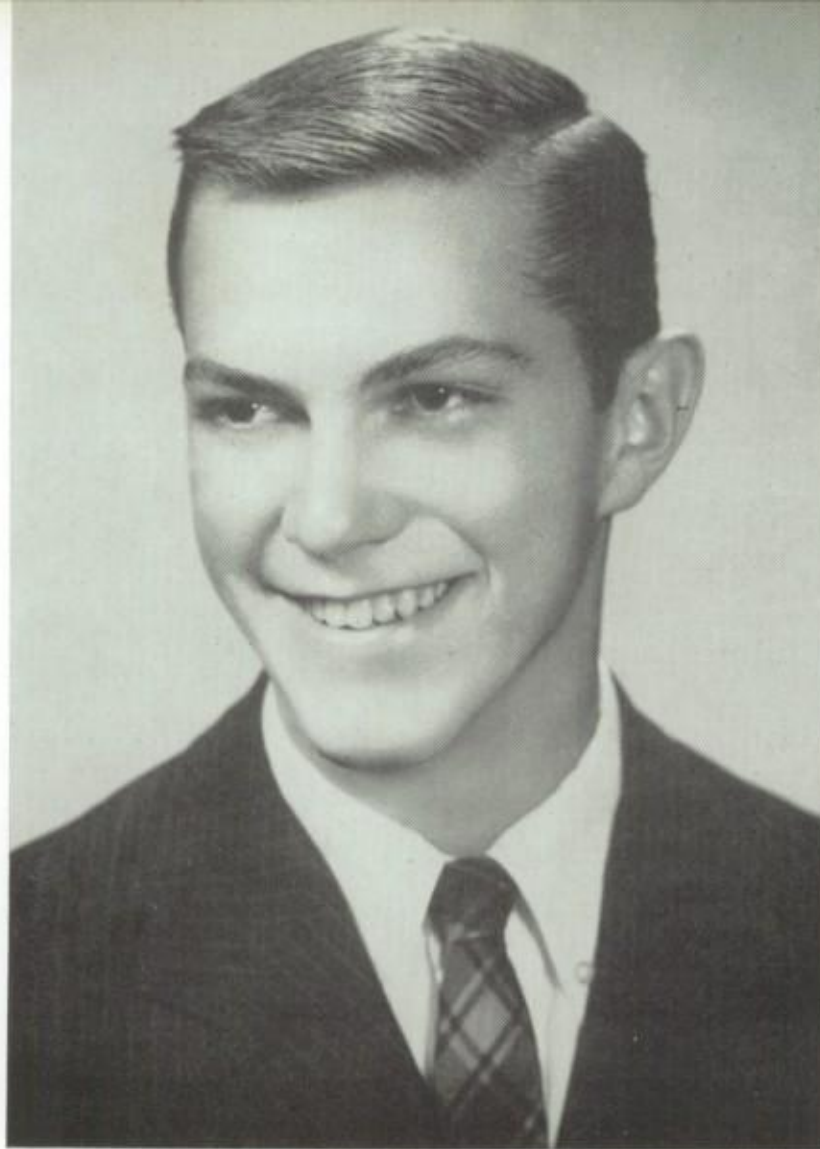

Here stands the senior! It has been a long time since the senior was a frightened freshman, stepping for the first time into the new world of high school life. As he steps away, he glances back at the most important influence thus far on his life: Columbia High School. Here he has prepared to follow a career or to enter college.

After three years, the junior is now ready and eager to step up to his senior year, thinking all the while of those senior privileges. This past year the junior has experienced many new activities. For the first time he was able to enjoy the thrill of attending the Junior-Senior.

The sophomore, a little older and a little wiser, is now ready to accept the responsibilities of an upper-classman. The second year has been much easier than the first. The sophomore has learned of the extra-curricular activities and participated enthusiastically.

This year's freshman, stepping for the first time into the activities of high school life, was slightly frightened by the greatness of Columbia High. As the year draws to a close, the freshman recalls such pleasant memories as Freshman Week, Honor Society Installation, pep rallies, and football games. He realizes now the wonderful experiences facing him in his future years at Columbia High School.

JOE CLEVELAND
President

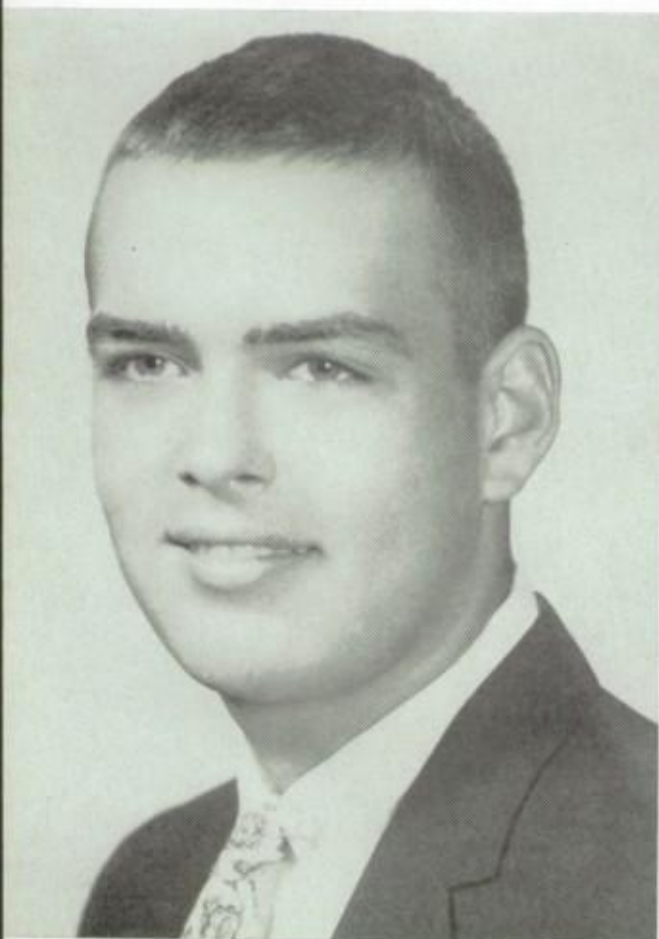

Officers Prove To Be

The nine Senior Class officers are divided into two groups. Major class officers—president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer—have the greater responsibility to the Senior Class. They are the ones who plan and present all events of the Senior year.

The minor class officers—poet, testator, prophet, historian, and class speaker—also have great responsibilities. They are elected by the Senior Class on the basis of ability to perform one particular task. The poet reads his poem on Class Day; the prophet and the testator produce the fruits of their labor in booklet form, also on Class Day; the historian writes the class history which appears in the annual. Most important of all, the class speaker makes a final tribute to his class on graduation night.

These class officers could accomplish very little without the help of the Senior Class Sponsor, Mrs. Patty Richardson, and the Senior Guidance Teacher, Mrs. Christine Blonaisz. Through their untiring work, these two teachers have won the love and respect of the entire Senior Class.

The Class Of 1963 First To Visit Foreign Shores

1. Venturesome group tour Florida and Nassau.
2. Various activities fill leisure time on way to Miami.
3. After a year of waiting, we finally board the S. S. Bahama Star!
4. So this is the dock at Nassau!
- 5, 6. These scenes in Nassau will long be remembered.
7. And some chose spearing moray eels . . .
8. Who relaxed on this boat trip to Paradise Beach?
9. Our boat stands proudly in harbor waiting—we hope—for our return.
10. Chaperons just couldn't take it!

JUNIOR CLASS

Long years of trudging onward toward that hallowed goal, graduation, seem only too brief now as we, the class of '64, are preparing for our Senior year. From the first sound of the school bell in September 'til the final echo of the Alma Mater in June, this year of novel experience is filled with crystal moments that will echo throughout the coming years.

The gold class rings, the Junior-Senior dance, and the waiting for our Senior trip signify the rank of Columbia High's Junior class.

The Junior class is a busy class. The members look closely at the fast approaching time when they will be Seniors and participate in exclusively Senior activities.

Our class activities will not end now, but they will become more and more intensive as the Junior year ends and the Senior year approaches.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Sophomore—the name itself has a special meaning to each of us. This was the year that we truly became a part of Columbia High and a part of her spirit.

This was the year of class projects, the first time our classmates held important positions. We started by being aids to the freshmen. For the first time, we realized what the opportunity to help a new class become real Columbia High students really meant. Determined to equal or better our last year's effort in activities, we displayed our talent in sock hops, and successful Christmas projects. Proving that we had beauty as well as ability, one of our classmates was crowned Miss COLUMBIAN.

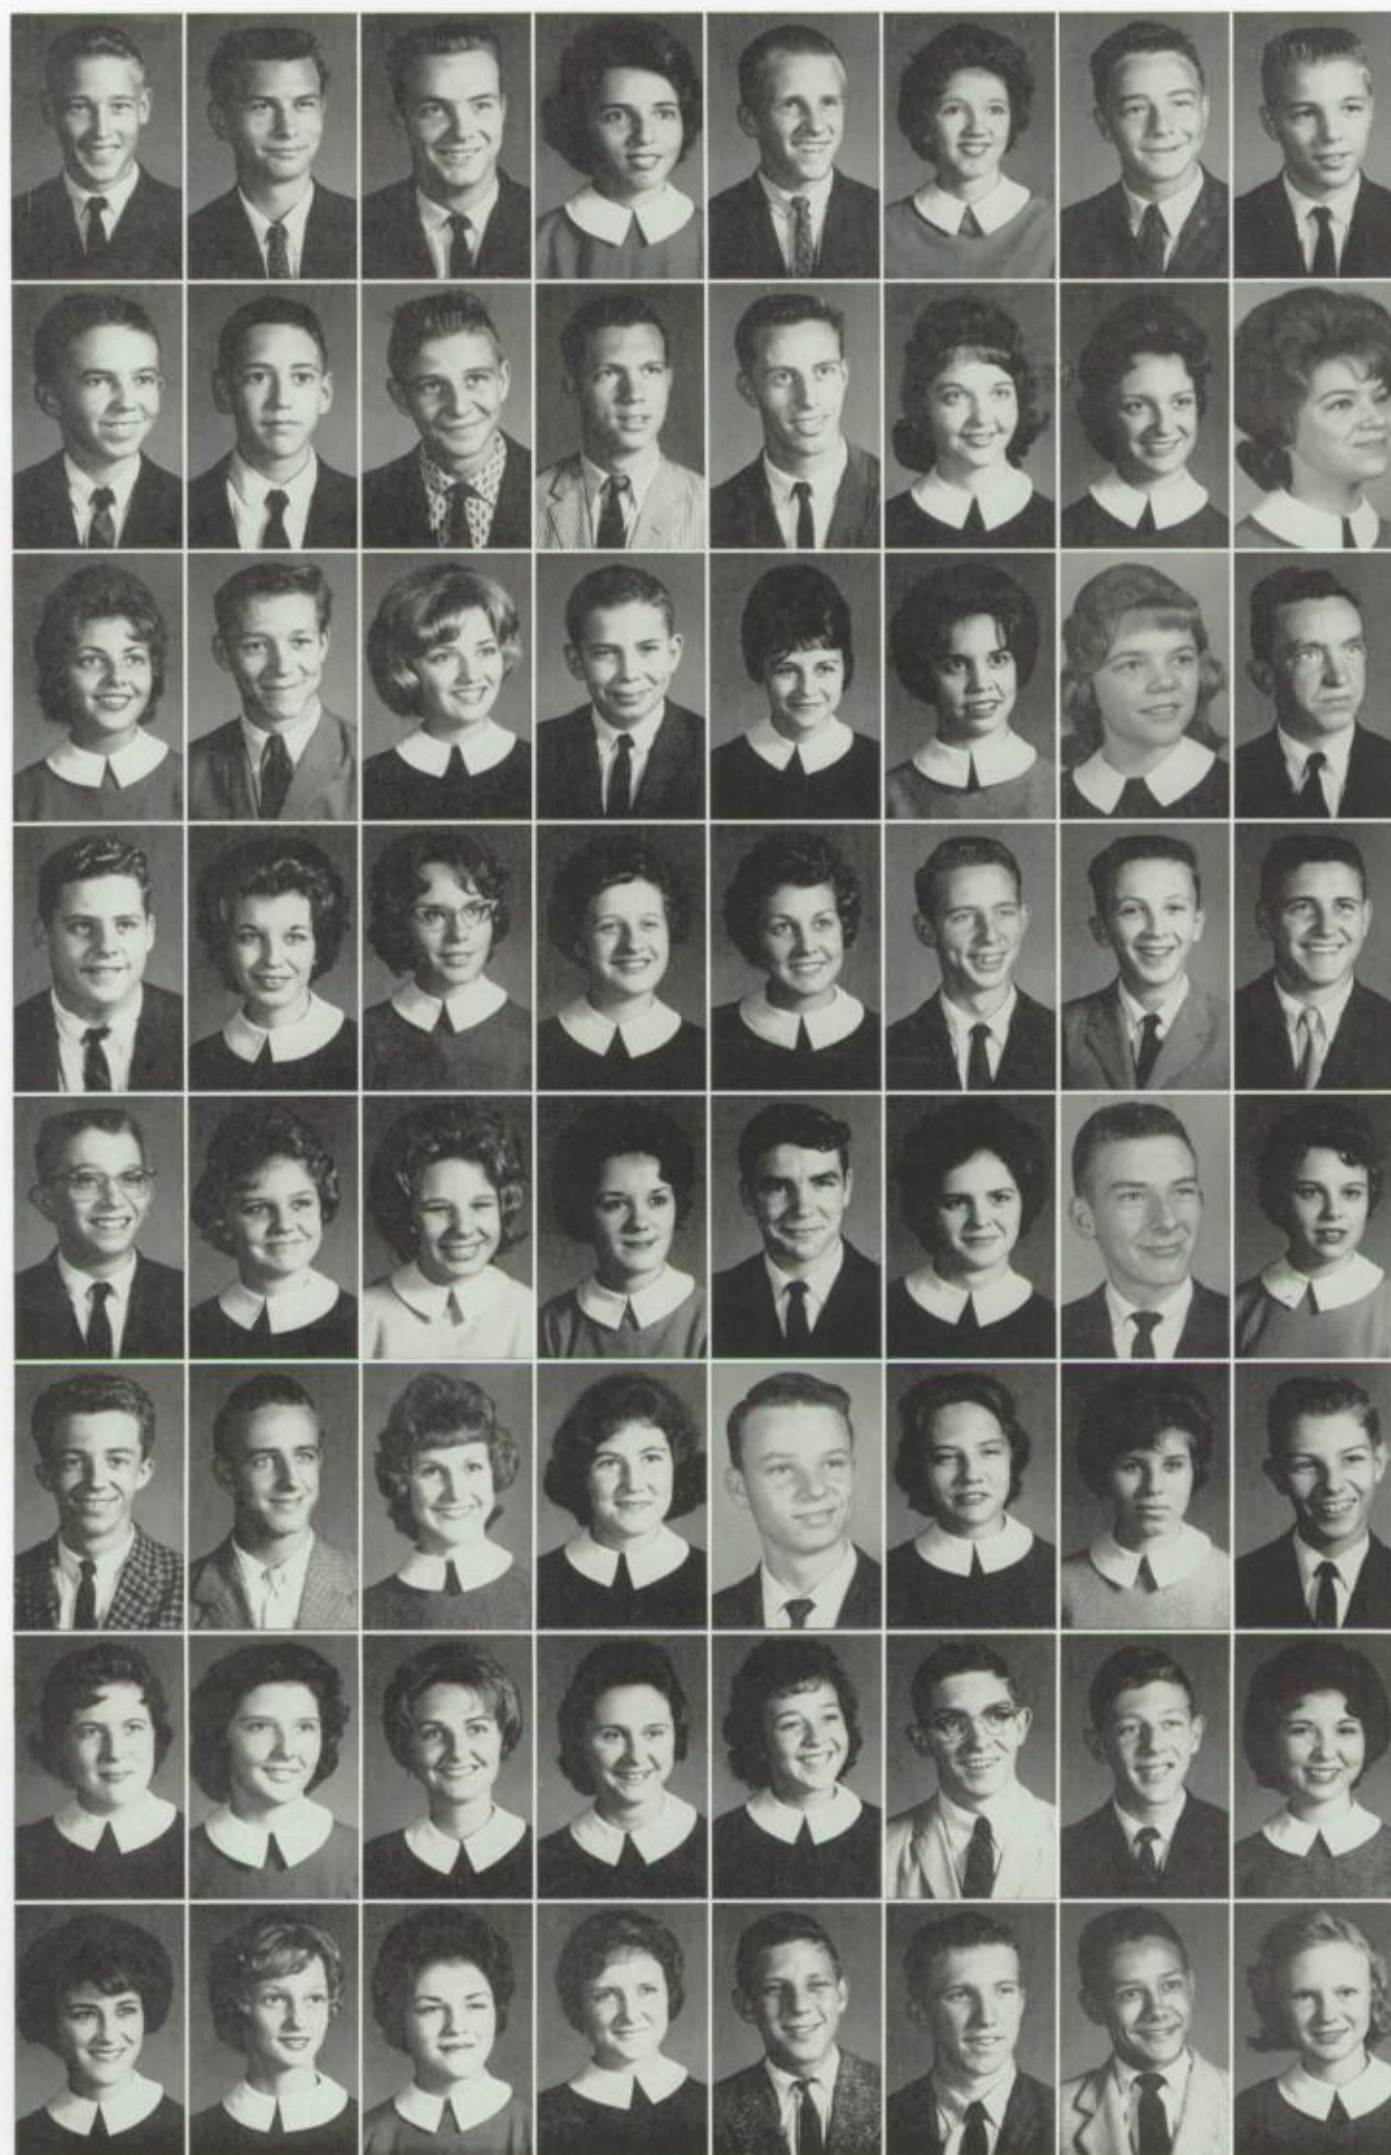

As we step into the rank of Jolly Juniors, we realize that our sophomore year will always have a special place in our hearts, for there will never be another like it.

FRESHMAN CLASS

From the moment we arrived at Columbia High, we sensed the feeling of friendliness that we had heard so much about. The teachers were there to greet us with smiles and to help us get settled. Things began to happen rapidly; and as we dashed from class to class, we became more and more a part of Columbia High, and she a part of us.

During orientation week we learned about Columbia High's past and future and were prouder still to be a part of her present. Throughout the ordeal of hailing the upperclassmen, wearing signs, and being tried at Rat Court, our strong class spirit began to develop.

We entered every activity with the same spirit that led us to victory in the basketball tournament.

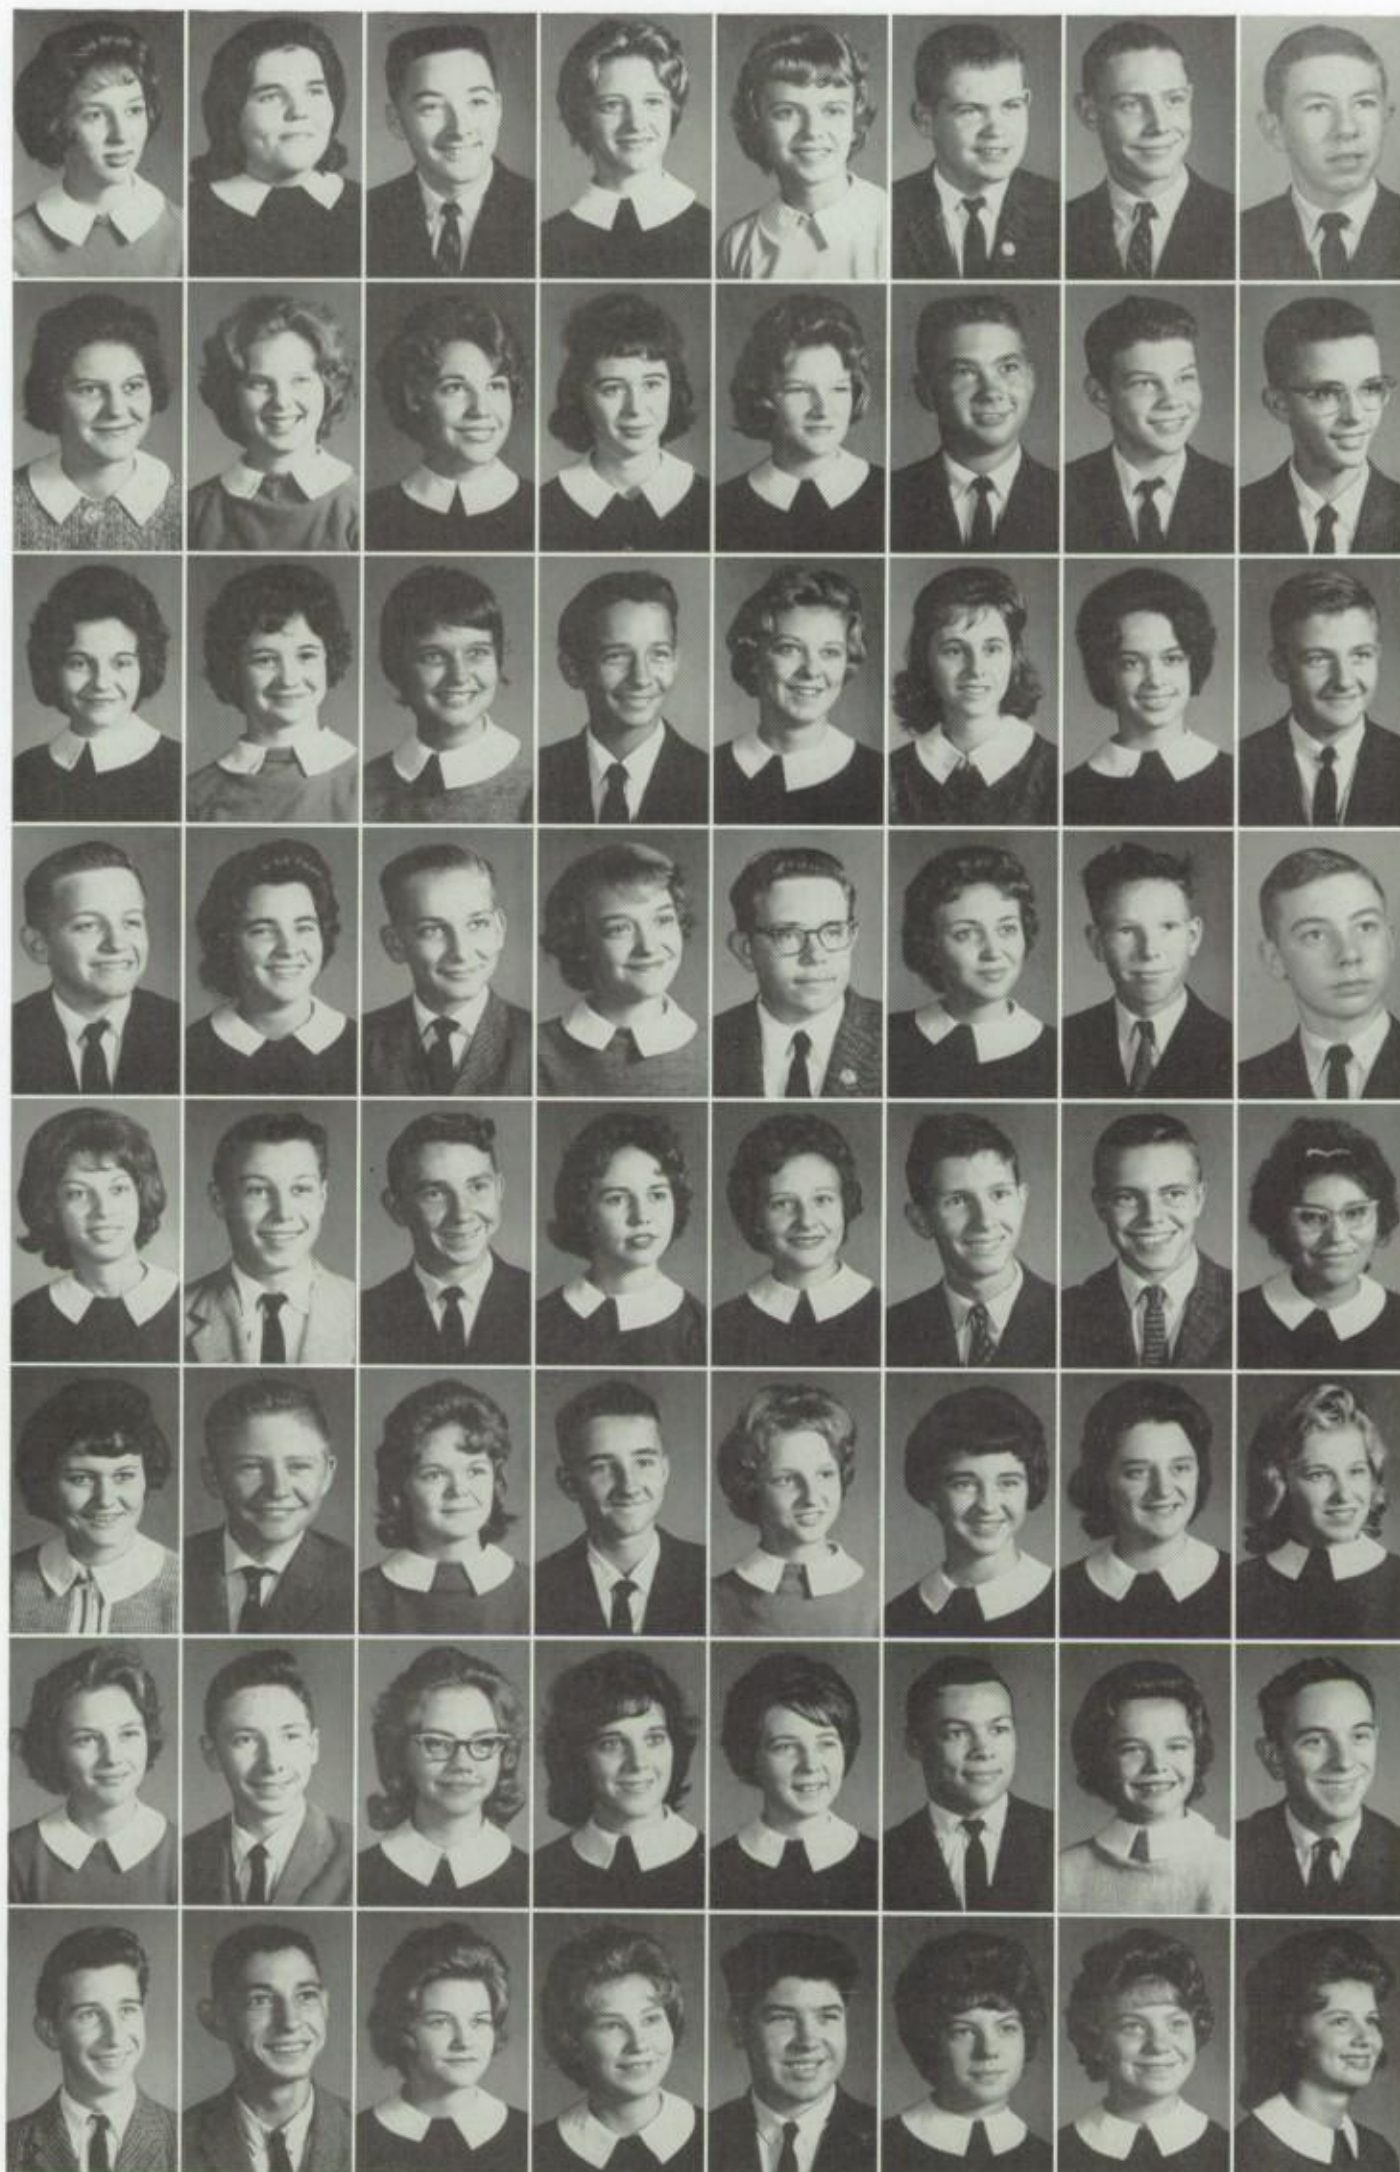

We learned what it meant really to study as we got into the swing of high school life. We emerged from exams with a spirit of confidence and looked forward with anticipation to becoming sophomores.

"In Memoriam"

Ada Kelly, a freshman at Columbia High, met with a fatal automobile accident last November. May we remember Ada as we go forward in our work together—her eager spirit ever with us.

"DEATH"

Death is the end to life's trials,
A shedding of burdens and cares;
Death is acceptance of beauty,
Disposing of pain and despairs.

The next few pages of the COLUMBIAN are dedicated to the many students of Columbia High who are classified as Who's Who. To be in the Who's Who Section, a person must exhibit fine qualities such as leadership, citizenship, character, loyalty, and, most of all, service. He must be outstanding in the extra-curricular activities.

This section, Who's Who, first appeared in the 1960 COLUMBIAN. It is becoming a true tradition of the school because it is so well liked by the faculty and the student body.

Included in this section are Executive Council, Representative Council, Key Club, Anchor Club, Marshals, the Merit Scholarship finalist, Inter-School Council, and Boys' and Girls' State representatives.

Participants in such activities are truly the Who's Who at Columbia High.

Council Sponsors College Day For Upperclassmen

Executive Council, the highest student governing body at Columbia High, strives to maintain the excellent precedent of leadership set by previous Councils. Its chief and most important responsibility lies in seeing that all reasonable requests of the student body are granted or placed before the administration for consideration.

Each semester the Council members, including two freshmen, four sophomores, six juniors, eight seniors, and four ex-officio members, are elected by the popular vote of the student body. The President of the Student Body, also elected at this time, serves as President of Executive Council.

During the year, Council, which is responsible for all extra-curricular activities other than sports, sponsors many various worthwhile projects. Executive Council is responsible for the orientation of new students during Freshman Week.

Some other projects and activities sponsored are College Day, for the benefit of academic juniors and seniors; Christmas caroling, which is enjoyed by both young and old; and the sale of school pictures. A new project this year is the Canteen, a most beneficial and profitable undertaking.

Executive Council serves as a laboratory of citizenship, promotes and directs school activities, and helps to establish better relations among the students, faculty, and the community.

Four Cardinal Principles Govern NHS Members

Election to the National Honor Society is one of the highest honors a student may obtain while at Columbia High School.

To be elected to the Honor Society, a student must have exhibited individual traits of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Since they serve as an example of Columbia High students, members have the responsibility of upholding these qualities.

This year the Society members have raised money for worthy causes, acted as guides for various school events, helped edit the Freshman handbook, and again sponsored the annual homeroom Christmas parties and the COLUMBIAN signing party.

The Society is pledged to uphold and encourage high standards of thought and conduct among the students at all times.

60-Point Award Signifies Outstanding Service

Among the high awards at Columbia High School, one of the most coveted is the 60-Point Award. Those receiving this award have given unselfishly of their time, efforts, and talent.

Honor points for leadership and extra-curricular points for service are given in the various activities at Columbia High. When a student has a total of 60 points or more, he is then eligible for the award. The pupils receiving the award are recognized in an awards assembly where they receive pins. The greatest reward to the student is the knowledge that he has given a helping hand to someone along the way.

Most Intellectual Is Merit Finalist

Each spring juniors desiring to do so take the Merit Scholarship Test. If they rate high enough in the nation-wide scores, they may obtain a valuable scholarship. Scholarships are usually given to the top ten percent.

This year Columbia High had only one finalist, Dierk Rhynsburger. In his years at Columbia High Dierk has participated in many of the school activities, including the Math Club and the Stamp and Coin Club. He is also Head Monitor and president of the National Honor Society.

The Honor Roll at Columbia High School is composed of outstanding students with a high scholastic average. In order to get on the Honor Roll, a student must make at least 3 "A's" and a "B" on major subjects. No less than a "B" on a minor subject is allowed. The list of members is compiled at the end of each semester.

Students Receive Old English "C"

At the end of each semester an Old English "C" is awarded to the students who have shown outstanding ability in the many non-athletic phases of student life at Columbia High. This coveted award is obtained by the students who have given unselfishly of their time and effort. Stars are given to those continuing in their loyalty and service to Columbia High School. The Old English "C" is one of the highest awards a student may receive.

Projects Characterize Newly Formed Anchor Club

The Columbia High School Anchor Club is a service organization sponsored by the Columbia chapter of Pilot Club International. The major aims of the club are to develop initiative and leadership in the girls, to provide experience in living and working together, to serve the school and community, and to prepare for useful citizenship.

Of the twenty-seven members, there are eleven seniors, ten juniors, and six sophomores. These girls are in good standing scholastically, possess qualities of leadership and good character, and have been approved by the principal.

Now in its second year, the Anchor Club has proved its worth in serving the school and the community. The members have completed several successful projects, some of which were babysitting for teachers during special school functions, assisting in the distribution of car safety stickers for the South Carolina National Bank, ushering at various school events, and helping a needy family at Christmas.

High School Seniors Set Up Model Democracy

Each year boys and girls representing all the high schools in the state come together to learn more about their American way of life. Although Boys' and Girls' State are observed separately, their principles are the same. This project is carried out through the American Legion.

These leading high school seniors set up and run a model democracy. The students are divided into parties, states, counties, and cities. Through a series of rallies and elections, officers are elected to hold positions in their little democracy. The top event of the week is the presidential election. Each student comes away with renewed patriotism and pride in America.

Marshals Enforce Laws And Help In Emergencies

About six years ago a service organization, the Marshals, was introduced into Columbia High. It was started when the teachers found the need for special supervision at extra assemblies, night performances, and in civil emergencies. The students who serve as Marshals are picked from the junior and senior classes for their physical courage and because they are outstanding in their classes. We salute the Marshals in the service they do for Columbia High.

Religious Council Represents Faiths

Religious Council, working under Executive Council, plans the programs and is in charge of the speakers for Religious Emphasis Week, which is observed in the spring of each year. The Council is composed of students of as many denominations as possible.

Seated: Harrie Clarkson, Paul Tomlinson, Robin Yaghjian. Standing: Gwen McQuitty, Lynn Smith, Dickie Harrison, Ruby Brown, Cecile Langham.

Council Sponsors Students' Dances

Recreation at the Memorial Youth Center is planned by Youth Council, a group of representatives from each high school in the city.

The members from Columbia High are selected by Representative Council.

Youth Council sponsors dances after football games, a Valentine dance, and a Valentine Queen contest.

Seated: Louise Lindler, Patsy Thompson. Standing: Lee Pitts, Stanley Craig, Don Deese.

Inter-School Group Fosters Cooperation

Inter-School Council is an organization formed for the sole purpose of giving representatives from the city schools a chance to work together.

Council members are chosen on a semester basis. They meet once a month in the school board building with representatives from five other high schools.

Four Leaders Of School Receive High Honors

Each year the Senior Class elects a representative for the Miss Hi-Miss contest. This girl must reflect qualities of leadership, scholarship, and service. This program is sponsored by Winthrop College.

The Senior Class of 1963 chose Robin Yaghjian as their Miss Hi-Miss.

The Senior Class of 1963 elected Louise Lindler DAR Girl. She was chosen on the basis of honor, patriotism, and service.

Louise represents the school in the state DAR contest. The winner receives a $100 savings bond and a trip to Washington, D. C.

This year the Junior Class chose Jackie Elkin as their 1963 Miss Hi-Miss.

The girls who receives this award portrays qualities of leadership, and service and is honored during a special weekend at Winthrop College.

Each year the Senior Class chooses a King Teen. The candidates for this honor are chosen on the basis of scholarship, high school achievement, leadership, dependability, and character.

The 1963 King Teen is Joe Cleveland.

Jackie Irby Wins The '62 Goudelock Scholarship

The 1962 winner of the Bill Goudelock Scholarship was Jackie Irby. This award is the highest tribute that may be paid to a Columbia High senior.

The scholarship was established by the Executive Council in February, 1951, to honor those who served our country in military service. It was named in honor of Bill Goudelock, Lt., U.S. M.C.R., who was the first Columbia High graduate killed in action in the Korean conflict.

The winners of this scholarship should exhibit traits which Bill, a former student body president, personified . . . unselfish service and self-sacrifice, the highest moral standards, a keen devotion to duty and responsibility, a winning personality, and initiative.

Jackie typifies each one of these qualities and truly deserves this honor. While at Columbia High Jackie served on Executive Council, was a member of the National Honor Society, served as the Secretary and the Treasurer of the student body, and received her 60-point award.

A C T I V I T I E S

The students of Columbia High, like people in any community, have a wide range of interests. With the help of the faculty, students have formed numerous clubs which touch on the fields of music, language, drama, bridge, chess, checkers, sports, international relations, careers, and service. Though students learn much about the activities through the clubs, the most important element is that the students learn to know and work well with each other.

Organized groups are responsible for assembly programs which show their purpose. Members are also responsible for programs at the regular meetings. The club program is under the supervision of Executive Council with Miss Sarah Godbold as coordinator of all extra-curricular activities.

Band Has Busy Season With Marching And Concerts

The school year began August 6th for Columbia High School's fifty bandmen when they began to attend band school five days a week, marching, training freshmen, and preparing for the new school year.

The climax of the 1962 Fund Drive for new uniforms was September 8th when the band gave away a new 1962 Dodge Dart at the halftime of the Brookland-Cayce vs. Columbia High football game. The drive paid off thirty percent of the amount owed on the uniforms.

Marching season was culminated at the State Marching Championship in Camden, where the band scored ninety-one percent of the possible points awarded. Highlights of the spring semester were the Pops and Spring Concerts and State Band Festival.

Building Helpers Keep School In Fine Order

The maids and janitors of Columbia High perform the time-consuming job of keeping the corridors and rooms sparkling clean. They are among the first to arrive in the mornings and the last to leave in the afternoons.

The cooks have the tremendous job of preparing meals for the large number of students who eat in the cafeteria. They are also responsible for keeping the kitchen clean.

We are proud of the efficient job our building helpers perform.

COOKS: Mrs. Dyson, Supervisor; Eva Adams, Ernie Samuels, Jessie Harris, Lettie Calhoun, Eva Jamison, Annie Gallman.

STUDENT LIFE

The building in which we study is not the basis on which a school is built. The students build and make a school what it is. We are proud to be part of Columbia High School and to keep building to the standards it has built for itself.

The students' joys and sorrows, work and play, give meaning to the halls and classrooms of Columbia High School. The things we do and say each day will bring back lasting memories in the years to come.

These snapshots catch and hold the little incidents that may seem unimportant to the outsider, but have special meaning for the students. These show a student's love of fun, his pride in his school, and his willingness to work to make it the best.

Every action and experience, whether it be trivial or important, leads the students to a greater readiness for their lives ahead.

Through these pictures we can remember our "good ole high school days." Remember each day, for it never returns.

The Hi-Life Staff works long and hard hours to send their masterpieces to press twelve times a year.

The Key Club and the Publication Business Staff presented WEST SIDE STORY on January 10, 11, and 12.

Whether it's before school or after, you can always find at least one student who looks as if he's lost.

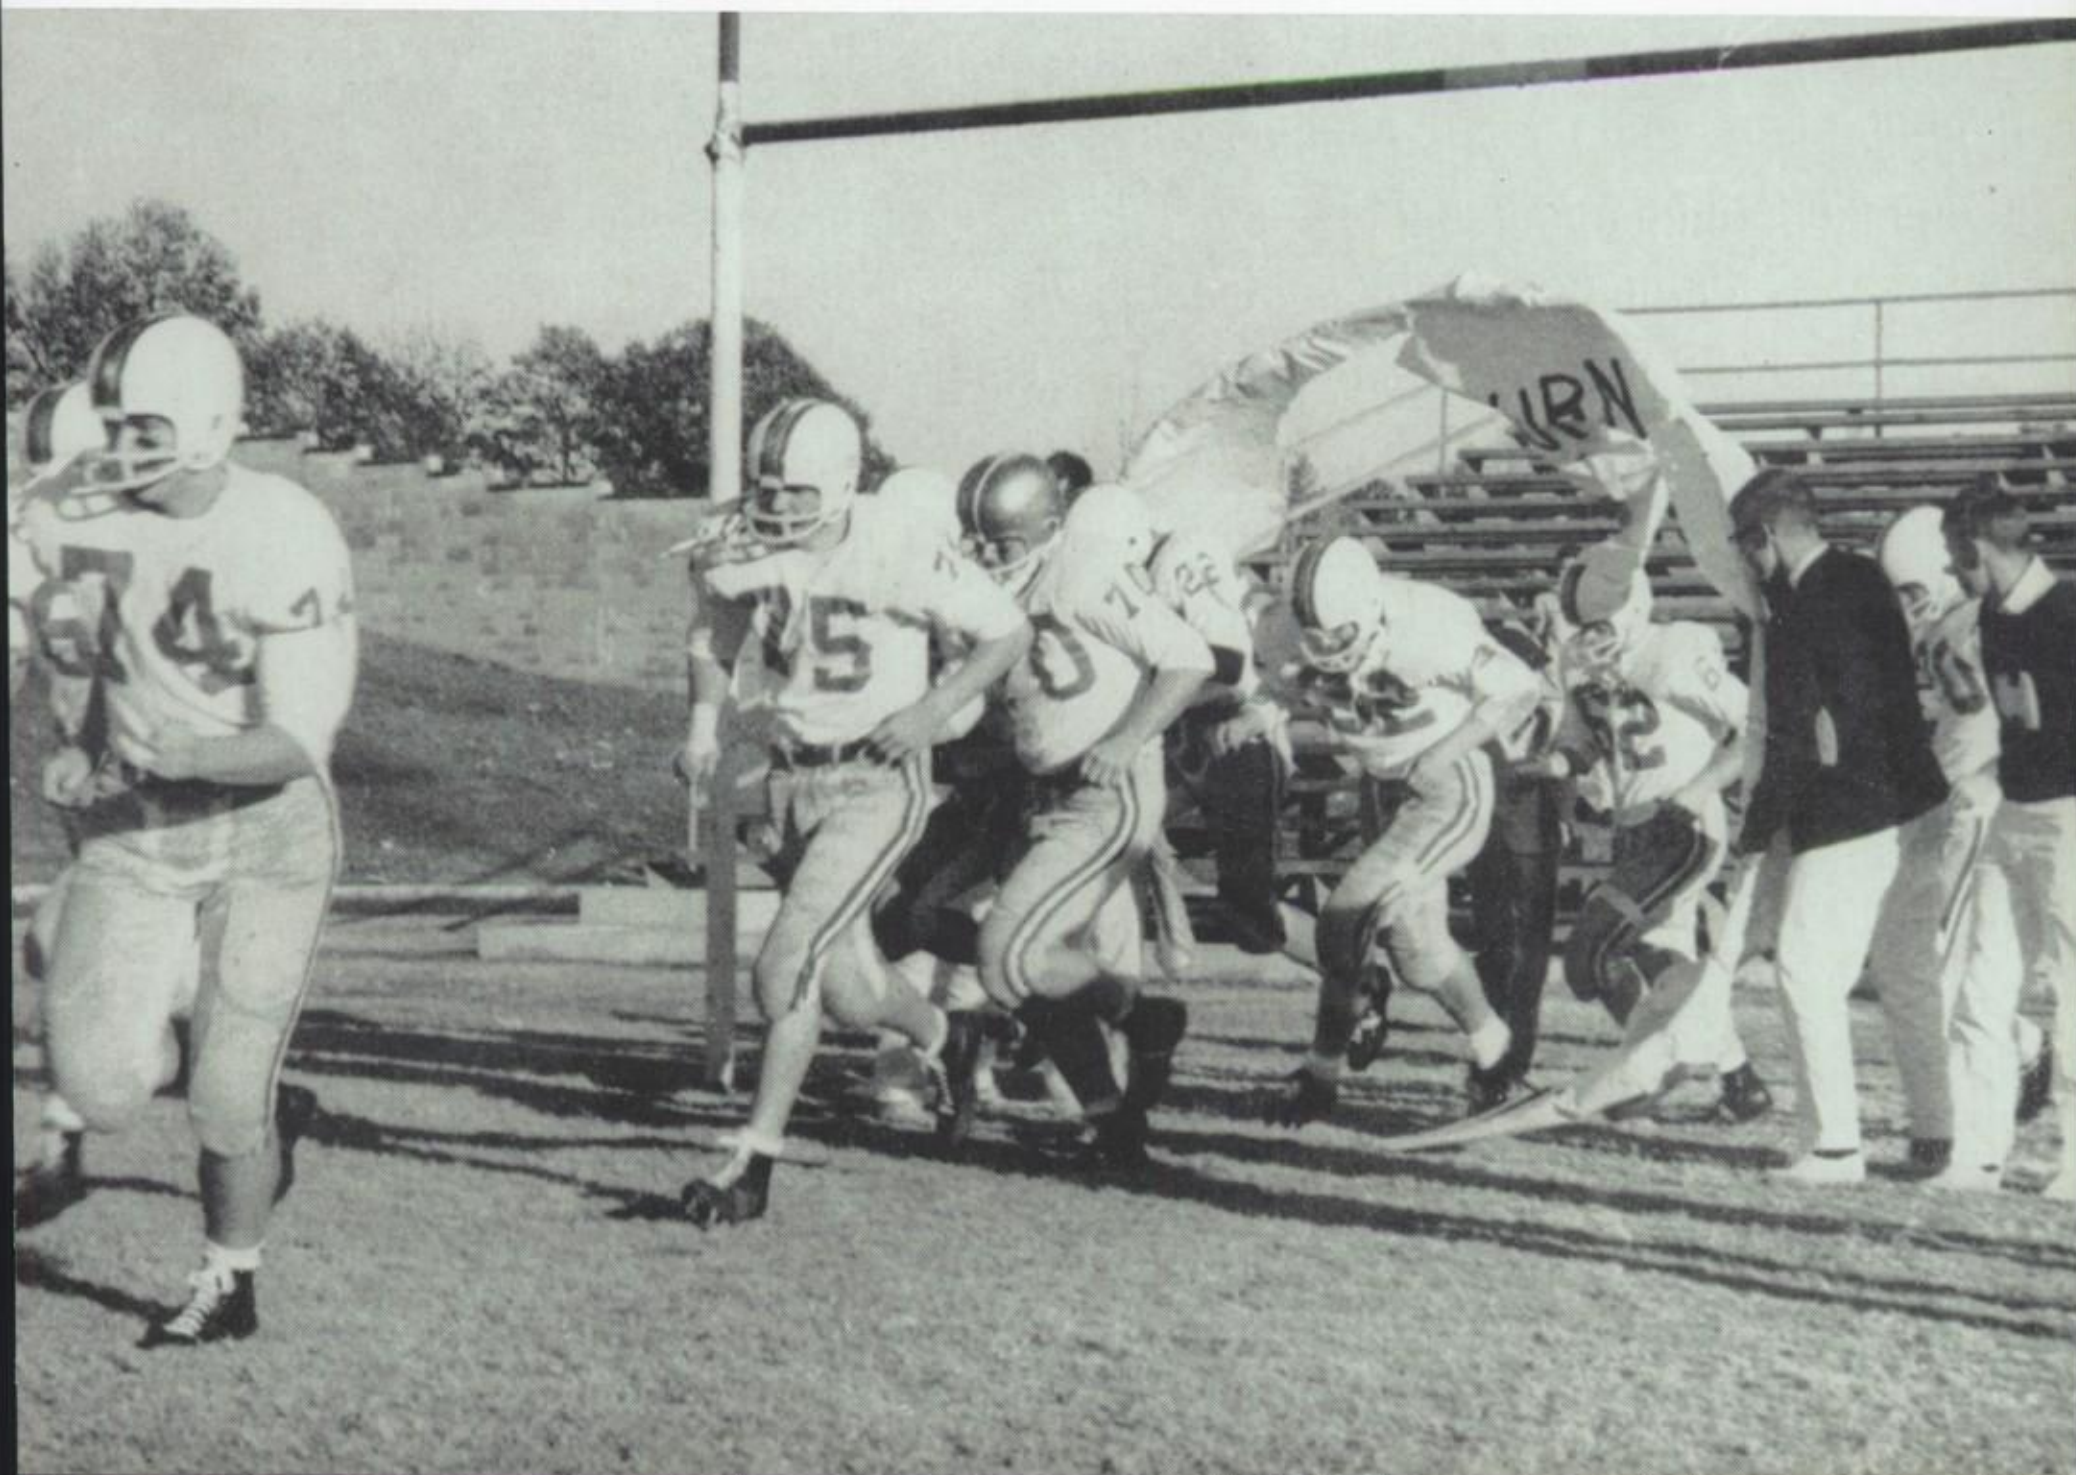

ATHLETICS

Physical exercise is necessary for a well-rounded high school career. Columbia High School looks after the needs of its students in this capacity by offering various sports as extra-curricular activities. The sports offered at Columbia High are football, basketball, baseball, track, golf, and girls' after school sports. Football is left to the more rugged individual. Basketball, baseball, track, and golf depend not so much on brawn as on skill. The girls also have their chance at basketball, softball, and track. For those individuals not quite so athletic there are positions such as manager. The coaches and gym teachers have worked to teach the students sportsmanship and to uphold the status of the athletic program. Students are rewarded for their efforts in sports with Block "C's".

The cheerleaders and the Homecoming exercises represent an indirect association with sports.

Capitals Down Richmond In Season's Opener

This year the "Caps" did not have a very impressive record, winning only four games.

In their first game, the Capitals went to Augusta and beat Richmond Academy. This victory was very significant because the "Musketeers," had not lost at home in 28 consecutive games. The next week found the Capitals at home where they beat the BC "Bearcats." The next week the "Caps" suffered their first defeat of the season at the hands of the Orangeburg "Indians". The score was 12 to 14. In Lancaster, the "Hurricanes" handed the Capitals a crushing defeat, but we were victorious over Anderson, 13 to 0. The Capitals lost to Florence before beating Olympia in the last home game before the Flora game. The Capitals lost to Flora and Dreher to close out the 1962 season.

Another significant fact of this year's season was that the Capitals went to a football camp at Fort Caswell, North Carolina. For one week the "Caps" were engaged in a strict routine of physical training and "skull sessions" at the blackboard, learning the various offenses and defenses they would run during the 1962 season.

CARVIE JACOBS

The 1962 Capitals were led by two very fine athletes, Donny Onley, and Carvie Jacobs.

Donny is a member of the Key Club, Executive Council, a Marshal, winner of Sportsmanship Award, and winner of Optimist Youth Award.

Carvie is also a very fine track man. He is a member of the Key Club, a Marshal, president of his homeroom, and he has been a member of Executive Council.

Athletic Director

Coach E. T. Borders, Athletic Director of Columbia High, is always available to lend a hand to the athletes at Columbia High.

Homecoming Highlight Of '62 Football Season

Halftime of the Columbia High Homecoming game opened with the traditional crowning of the queen. Ruth Hoffman of University High was crowned Homecoming Queen. Since both University and Columbia High have players on the team, the two schools are always alternately represented by a queen.

Cecile Langham represented Columbia High as Maid of Honor. The bright halftime ceremony was clouded by Aiken edging the Caps out of a victory.

Cheerleaders Seek And Find Spirit In Students

Columbia High's cheerleaders are selected by the student body for their outstanding ability to communicate with people. This year the cheerleaders have done a marvelous job in keeping the school spirit boosted. These students come from all phases of CHS life. They may be recognized as government leaders, scholars, or just hard workers.

J. V. And "B" Squad Prepare For Varsity Of '64-'65

Under the direction of Coach Bill Loving, the Columbia High basketball team progressed from almost last place in the league to a position of importance near the top of the league.

This year's team had the best record a CHS basketball team has had in many years. The '63 Capitals won 13 and lost 10. The "Caps" opened the season with a bang by beating the Orangeburg "Indians" by a score of 64 to 43. Next the Capitals downed Airport High by a score of 86 to 39. The next CHS victory came against high-ranked A. C. Flora. The score of this game was 73 to 41. The Capitals ended the season with a pair of thrillers. They downed the Aiken team 44 to 43 and the Greenwood team was beaten by a score of 55 to 54.

Baseball, Track Require Good Physical Condition

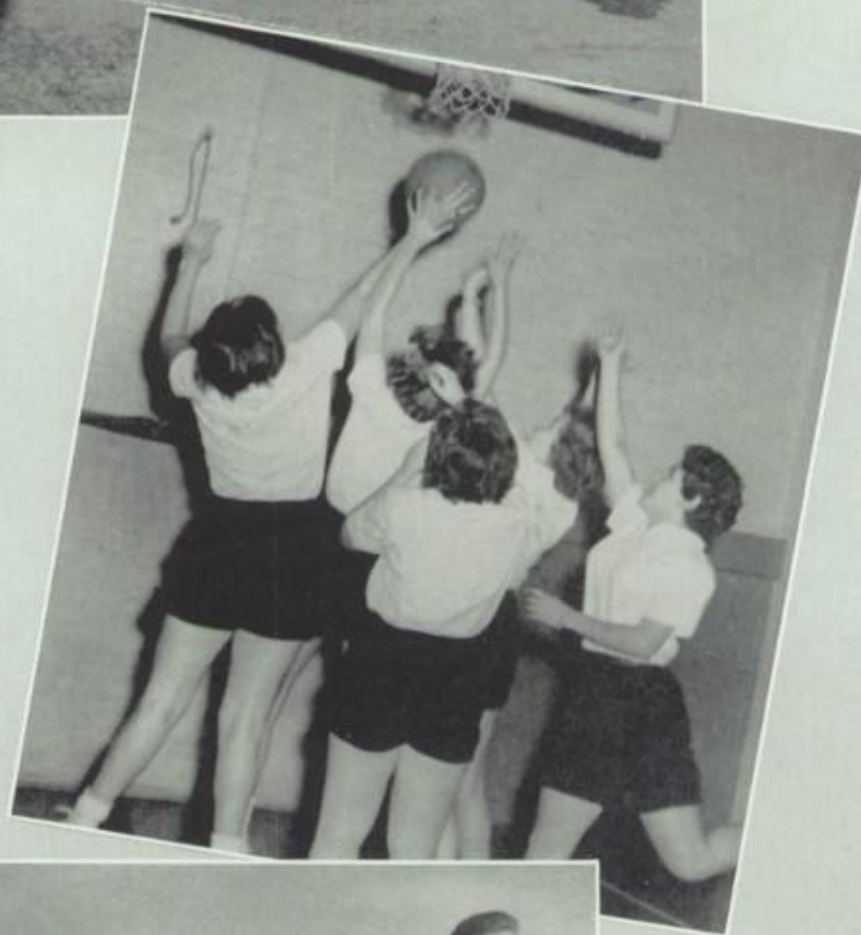

Under the direction of Mr. E. T. Borders, the boys going out for track compete in a number of dual and triangular meets. The team is composed of boys who compete in running the hundred yards to a mile, hurdling, and in various field events.

Baseball, the All-American game, teaches its participants coordination, good health habits, and sportsmanship. The baseball team has had a successful season under the training of Coach Bill Loving. The man who plays by the rules of the game learns to get along with his fellow man.

Ten Girls Achieve Award In 62-63 Sports Season

The Block "C" is earned by any girl who has received ten points for achievement in after-school sports. This is the goal of all girls participating in these afternoon sports.

Gym Class Teaches Girls Good Posture

All girls are required to take three years of gym while attending CHS. Although these classes are hard work, they prove enjoyable to every girl.

To encourage good posture, marching and posture tests are given at the end of each semester.

The girls' Physical Education Department is under the direction of Miss Sarah Godbold, assisted by Mrs. Sudie Love.

Godbold And Love Head Gym Program

Miss Sarah Godbold has always been loved and respected by the students of Columbia High School since she first came thirty-two years ago. Miss Godbold has provided the girls with a well-rounded gym program.

Besides instructing mainly freshman gym classes, Mrs. Sudie Love gives of her time sponsoring girls' extra-curricular school sports.

Modern Dance Class Proves Very Popular

Modern dance is a highly individualized form of expression as well as a creative group activity.

The girls take formal dance exercises which develop the fundamental skills of movement and rhythm.

Even though this course was started only two years ago, the girls presented a program at Columbia College in the spring of this year.

Volleyball Team Competes In City

Volleyball is the first sport taught to the girls in gym classes and after-school activities.

Each year classes play intramural volleyball games. This year the seniors won the school championship after finishing undefeated.

From this group attending afternoon practices, the varsity consisting of nine girls is chosen.

First Row: Linda Byrd, Jean Rabon, Cindy Hackler. Second Row: Gloria Crosby, Diane Dixon, Margie Rawlinson, Janice Taylor, Margery West.

Girls Show Ability In Softball Season

Softball is the last sport of the season. After gaining the basic softball skills, the girls selected as the varsity team played several teams in the city. Due to the lack of the necessary room, the girls must practice at Taylor Elementary School. All games are played at the opponent's school.

Basketball Skills Taught To Girls

Basketball provides the girls of Columbia High the opportunity to exhibit their skills. Through long practice sessions and even more difficult games, the girls gain experience. The varsity usually consists of four guards and four forwards. These girls compete with teams from other schools. The freshman girls competed in this year's Hand Invitational Tournament.

C.H.S. Track Team Has Successful City Meet

Track is a favorite sport of many Columbia High girls. The different events give the girls a chance to show their abilities. Columbia High's team competed successfully in the City-Wide Track Meet and in the State Track Meet. These meets consist of various running events, standing and running broad jump, and the softball throw.

First Row: Mary Frances Rish, Linda Byrd, Betty Lynn Price, Margie Rawlinson, Gloria Crosby, Janice Taylor, Sharon Kennedy, Ellen Seavy. Second Row: Margery West, Cindy Hackler.

FEATURES

Beautiful girls are always a welcome sight and Columbia High School certainly may boast of more than its share.

An outstanding event of the year is the beauty contest with the crowning of CHS's most beautiful girl as "Miss COLUMBIAN". "Miss Freshman", "Miss Sophomore", "Miss Junior", and "Miss Senior" are also chosen during the contest.

Miss Flame, the prettiest redhead, represents our school in the city-wide Miss Flame Contest and rides in the city parade during Fire Prevention Week. For six consecutive years Columbia High beauties have held the honor of city-wide Miss Flame.

Every February the student body elects two pretty girls to represent CHS in the city-wide Valentine Queen Contest sponsored by the Memorial Youth Center.

The Feature Section of the COLUMBIAN is devoted to the Columbia High beauties who hold these titles and honors.

MISS COLUMBIAN OF 1963

Lynne Hempley

Lynne Hempley, Miss COLUMBIAN of 1963, has participated in school activities as well as taking part in many community affairs. She was choreographer for "West Side Story" and has participated in Town Theater productions, such as "South Pacific" and "Bye-Bye Birdie." She has also taken part in the work of the Lyric and Children's Theaters, and the North Carolina Symphony Ballet Company.

At present Lynne is studying dramatics under Mary Lou Kramer, plays basketball, participates in swimming meets, and works in Mr. Hicks' office.

Hold Fast These Memories

"Columbia High, Our Alma Mater," long you stood before the class of 1963 entered your halls, and long will you stand after we have scattered. "Praise to thee we sing," for the grand opportunities you have offered us. "Our faith and loyalty forever, to thy portals bring." Whether we spend the rest of our lives close to you or miles away, our hearts will always remain loyal to you—"the grand old lady of Washington Street." "As on through life we make our way, our memories will not fail." Always we shall cherish every moment, joyous or sad, spent as we wandered through the long halls of learning. "All glory, honor, praise to thee, Columbia High School, hail."

Yes, hail to thee—our Alma Mater. Hail to thee for your guidance, support, and most of all, for your genuine concern for every one of us. Hail to thee for accepting us as a part of you and for becoming a part of us, a very important part; for you have helped to mold our lives in such a manner that perhaps each of us, as good citizens in this great nation, may in some small way make this a better world in which to live. You have taught us, among other things, self-discipline, respect for authority, and the value of friendship.

Shall we ever forget hurrying to school in the mornings to congregate with friends in the auditorium? Everyone seemed to have his own special seat. Shall we ever forget a certain personality that watched from the rear of the room, making certain that we were in those seats?

We sat in the same auditorium on Freshman Orientation Day and watched in awe as student leaders and members of the faculty told us about this strange new place. We were shown the classrooms where we were to sit and squirm during our first semester at Columbia High. We were introduced to our homeroom teachers—the ones who have stood by us, prodded us, and sometimes scolded us. Little did we know, then, that they were just a few of the many people who would become very important to us during our four high school years.

It was a warm day and we were tired; for the halls seemed endless in length and number. We were served refreshments in the gym, where later we were to spend many exciting hours yelling, "Let's go, Caps!" but this phrase was heard not only in our gym, where the steam seems to rise. You might have heard it at the city stadium any frosty Friday night in autumn. Our hearts swelled as the cheerleaders led us in "the Caps are great!"

The wind was cold the night we entered Johnson Hall for our first "Miss COLUMBIAN" contest. Each year we held our breath to see who would be chosen our class beauty.

Our first annual, our first Twirp dance, our first awards assembly, our first Installation Assembly—these seem so long ago in some respects, yet they seem only yesterday.

We can vividly remember watching the seniors walking down the aisle at the Township Auditorium and receiving their diplomas, as we should do in the spring of '63. Oh, they seemed so old and we, so young. Then, in the fall, as sophomores, we missed those seniors. There was a new senior class, but, somehow there was a void that could not be filled.

Then as the weeks slipped by, we forgot our friends who had left us, the freshmen became a part of us, and we fell a little more deeply in love with our "Alma Mater." We began preparations for the "Junior-Senior." We raised money for the dance by sponsoring a beatnik party and later, a laua. We had gained a little confidence, yet we admired the upperclassmen and were envious of their poise.

Books, ball games, and fads flew on. We became upperclassmen. Finally We were juniors and perhaps a little cocky, but as all phases, that soon passed. We received our class rings and enjoyed our first "Junior-Senior"—the best Columbia High has ever seen. Also, during our junior year, we were proud to have a French exchange student at Columbia High School.

Our junior year passed quietly and came to a magnificent climax and finale—Nassua. We were the first class in the history of Columbia High School to venture into foreign waters on our class trip.

In September we entered Columbia High's halls once again, but this time everything seemed different. Now everyone looked up to us—Seniors, 1963

We were proud when retired Fire Chief A. Marsh was made an honorary graduate of Columbia High School, class of 1963.

After the first six weeks, some of us received Senior Privileges. Others of us sighed and said, "Well, maybe next time."

Suddenly everyone was busy. Study seemed even more important. Everything was going so fast. We remembered elementary school and how we thought that we would never make it to graduation. Then, as Seniors, we counted the months, the days, until graduation. Football players from our class chose sponsors for "Homecoming." We were measured for caps and gowns. We chose our motto, colors, and flower. We chose our Senior Superlatives. The girls began plans for their "Class Day" dresses. We rushed, rushed, rushed, all the while trying to hold on to every precious minute.

We had our Senior Banquet—just another reminder that our days at Columbia High were drawing to a close. We were reminiscent of our four years at dear old CHS.

We shall never forget you, Columbia High School. We shall never forget the trace of pipe smoke in the main office, pink slips, the three-fifteen bell on Friday, the squeaky step leading to the auditorium stage, fire drills on the coldest winter days, or quiet talks on the front steps when everyone else had gone home. Neither shall we forget Mrs. Richardson, our sponsor, the canteen, which was started in our senior year, our favorite teacher, or the turmoil of preparing for exams. We shall hold fast our memories of lunch period conversation, class meetings, our dance after the Senior Banquet, electing class officers. Most, of all, though, ever in our hearts will live our memories of our friends and classmates of the class of 1963.
